LVT in a nutshell...

This course introduces LogoVisual Thinking (LVT) - a practical hands-on method for freeing up thinking and unblocking potential. You will acquire a reliable means of rapidly leveraging the diversity of your team to address complex and challenging problems.

About the course

The course will ideally take place off-site at a local venue of your choice.

We will be happy to select a venue and make all necessary arrangements if you wish.

The course will usually take place from 9.00 until 5.00 with lunch and refreshments included.

Course materials include LVT kit to equip the team for the future as well as process handouts and guidebook.

Tailored to your needs

The course can be readily extended to deal adequately with bigger challenges.

The course can be incorporated into a broader development programme.

If the course is to be customised to your requirements, it will be necessary to co-develop a brief so that the issues addressed in the day match your needs.

Subsequent support and facilitation can be provided if required.

This course is not available as a public event. If you want to attend as an individual, please see Better Thinking for Better Results
